

We, I believe have a right to have satellite radio and all the benefits they can and will provide. Broadcasters have lost the ability to provide quality and diversity since deregulation, and therefore XM and Satellite radio in general, pick up and fill the gap very well. Bottom line: We pay for it because we can and want to. We should have what we want. We want traffic and weather.